

Proposed DRS default transfer process

We are proposing that in undefended DRS cases, the complainant should have the right to a transfer of the domain name registration on payment of a fee of £200 (plus VAT).
Please read our consultation paper for full details of this proposed default transfer process and then answer the questions below.

This document contains respondents between 41 and 41 inclusive.

1. What do you think about our proposal for a default transfer process?

- I agree with the proposal
- I don't mind one way or the other
- I disagree with the proposal

2. Please give your reasons for why you feel this way about the proposal

Our name is a well known brand and we seem to encounter a large number of infringers. Increasingly we are finding it difficult to contact some of these who live in Overseas countries such as China as their e-mail addresses do not appear to work. It is therefore difficult to take action against them. The proposed system would address this aspect if a transfer could be made when there was no response from the respondent provide of course that the complainant could prove rights in the domain name.
