

Proposed DRS default transfer process

We are proposing that in undefended DRS cases, the complainant should have the right to a transfer of the domain name registration on payment of a fee of £200 (plus VAT).
Please read our consultation paper for full details of this proposed default transfer process and then answer the questions below.

This document contains respondents between 77 and 77 inclusive.

1. What do you think about our proposal for a default transfer process?

- I agree with the proposal
- I don't mind one way or the other
- I disagree with the proposal

2. Please give your reasons for why you feel this way about the proposal

If put through i think the DRS system will be wide open to abuse.

The proposal would only in my view increase the number of dubious claims against domain names.

I am all for changes to the DRS system (as its not a perfect system for either party). However i do object to this proposal.
