

Proposed DRS default transfer process

We are proposing that in undefended DRS cases, the complainant should have the right to a transfer of the domain name registration on payment of a fee of £200 (plus VAT).
Please read our consultation paper for full details of this proposed default transfer process and then answer the questions below.

This document contains respondents between 151 and 151 inclusive.

1. What do you think about our proposal for a default transfer process?

I agree with the proposal

I don't mind one way or the other

I disagree with the proposal

2. Please give your reasons for why you feel this way about the proposal

This proposal in my mind is tantamount to theft;

e.g. I go holiday and someone enters my house and takes my stereo while I'm away, but because i went on holiday for three weeks and then report the matter to the Police upon my return, then they say I have to pay £100 to get my stuff back.

I would therefore like to know who in the Nominet Executive endorses this quite frankly daft proposal?
