

Have your say!

Please give us your feedback on these proposals by answering the following questions:

What domains should we release?

This document contains respondents between 11 and 11 inclusive.

Do you agree that two letter domain names should be released for registration in co.uk, org.uk, net.uk and me.uk as recommended by the PAB?

- Yes
- No

Please give comments

I believe it does not matter and may conform with all other gTLDs as well
but same dispute resolution has to apply.

These domain names should be checked and taken back into the public registration process if they registered for selling only,
as soon as such domain names are offered for sale, the registration should be suspended and the domain name released.

Do you agree that one character domain names should be released for registration in co.uk, org.uk, net.uk and me.uk as recommended by the PAB?

- Yes
- No

Please give comments

I believe it does not matter and may conform with all other gTLDs as well
but same dispute resolution has to apply.

These domain names should be checked and taken back into the public registration process if they registered for selling only,
as soon as such domain names are offered for sale, the registration should be suspended and the domain name released.

Do you agree that existing country codes under ISO 3166-1 such as fr, de, es, us etc be released for registration in co.uk, org.uk, net.uk and me.uk as recommended by the PAB?

- Yes
- No

Please give comments

I believe it does not matter and may conform with all other gTLDs as well
but same dispute resolution has to apply.

These domain names should be checked and taken back into the public registration process if they registered for selling only,
as soon as such domain names are offered for sale, the registration should be suspended and the domain name released.

We outlined the technical reasons why com.co.uk, org.co.uk and net.co.uk should not be released. Do you agree with these exceptions?

- Yes
- No

Please give comments

I believe it does not matter and may conform with all other gTLDs as well

but same dispute resolution has to apply.

These domain names should be checked and taken back into the public registration process if they registered for selling only, as soon as such domain names are offered for sale, the registration should be suspended and the domain name released.

Do you agree that existing generic top level domains (e.g. biz, info) should be released for registration in co.uk, org.uk, net.uk and me.uk as recommended by the PAB?

Yes

No

Please give comments

I believe it does not matter and may conform with all other gTLDs as well

but same dispute resolution has to apply.

These domain names should be checked and taken back into the public registration process if they registered for selling only, as soon as such domain names are offered for sale, the registration should be suspended and the domain name released.

Do you agree that existing .uk second level domains (e.g. co, org, ac, me, ltd) should also be released for registration in co.uk, org.uk, net.uk and me.uk?

Yes

No

Please give comments

I believe it does not matter

Do you agree that "uk" should continue to be reserved from registration in co.uk, org.uk, net.uk and me.uk as recommended by the PAB?

Yes

No

We propose to take the same approach for two letter, one character and the other previously unreleased domains (e.g. pro.co.uk). Do you agree with this proposal?

Yes

No

The PAB recommended a two stage release process: a first round for holders of registered trademarks, and a second round for names not taken by rights holders, open to holders of unregistered rights. Do you agree with this recommendation?

- Yes
- No

Please give comments

I believe it does not matter and may conform with all other gTLDs as well
but same dispute resolution has to apply.

These domain names should be checked and taken back into the public registration process if they registered for selling only,
as soon as such domain names are offered for sale, the registration should be suspended and the domain name released.

The PAB recommended a cut off date for qualifying rights for IP rights holders. They suggested 1996 and 2002 as possible dates. What do you think would be a suitable cut off date?

as in current law, the day of release should be efficient

We propose that initially commercial organisations should have priority in.co.uk and charities and not for profit organisations should have priority in org.uk. Do you agree with this approach?

- Yes
- No

We propose to hold a sealed bid auction for domain names where rights holders are competing, and for domain names not taken up by rights holders. Do you think there is a fairer way to allocate the first registration of these domain names?

- Yes
- No

Please give comments

I believe it does not matter and may conform with all other gTLDs as well
but same dispute resolution has to apply.

These domain names should be checked and taken back into the public registration process if they registered for selling only,
as soon as such domain names are offered for sale, the registration should be suspended and the domain name released.

We propose to hold a Dutch auction for the general release ("landrush") of domains not taken up by rights holders. Do you think there is a fairer way to allocate the first registration of these domain names?

- Yes
- No

We plan to run this whole exercise on a cost recovery basis, and any surplus funds generated from auctions would be donated to Nominet Trust, a charitable organisation established by Nominet with the objects including the education, relief of financial hardship and protection of children in the area of the Internet and information technology. Do you agree with this approach?

Yes

No

12. Please give us your contact details

Name

Torsten Kersandt

Company name/Organisation name

CNC-LONDON