Margins and white space for print use

Position and spacing

Dimensions shown in pixels (px) apply to screen usage; those shown in millimeters (mm) apply to print usage. These values are set and must not be changed. Artwork must not be redrawn - origination must remain with Nominet at all times.

- The widths of the screen logos are set. No other size is permitted.
- White space contained with the logo must be preserved; this margin may not be cropped in any manner.
- Use of a screen logo must be of a single impression, eg. it cannot appear as part of another animated image or series of images.
- Logos supplied are not to be copied or distributed to third parties from the source provided.

Screen use

Bitmapped images (such as .gifs or .jpgs must not be re-optimised (opened, reduced in colour-depth or otherwise altered - then re-saved).

Print use

Vector images (such as .eps files) must not be used as a source from which to produce other image formats.

The print version of the logo must be surrounded by a margin of at least 5mm. This margin may not be decreased, but may be increased depending on the member's own layout.

The box rule (shown as a dashed red line) around the logo indicates the minimum recommended amount of space.

A minimum amount of space protects the integrity of the logo and helps maintain a quality feel to all its applications.
