

Hi,

In general we have found Nominet to be excellent. The staff are helpful, the tools are useful and the business relationship is solid.

One area of concern was the debacle over the domain itunes.co.uk, which for all Nominet's representations about registrant rights looked like Nominet folding under pressure and allowing a large corporate body to hijack someone's domain. That left a very nasty taste in the mouth.

I would be very interested to know Nominet's actual position on the matter with the benefit of hindsight.

To refresh your memory:

http://www.theregister.co.uk/2005/11/25/cohen_itunes/

If you have any further questions please feel free to contact me.

Kind Regards

Warren Berdo

Technical Sales
Skymarket Ltd.