

To Nominet,

We have read your document titled "Consultation on Nominet member voting rights". We would like to say we are in favour of 1 member 1 vote scenario. We would certainly be more interested in voting and be more actively involved if voting were 1 member 1 vote. This way the voting member would feel his vote actually stood for something rather than larger members having things their way and the smaller Nominet member vote being unheard in the sea.

The fact that the member is voting he is being actively involved, it just does not have to be actively registering names.

If a member does not vote on *3 occasions their voting rights should be suspended until they start to vote again. Once their rights are suspended because they are not actively involved in .uk they would not be part of statistics that did not cast their vote. So to have a voting say the member need to be actively involved by voting.

*to be agreed

Regards
SoftProg Net